

NINCO GOES DEEPER INTO SLOT CARS AS A HOBBY AT THE PRESENTATION OF ITS 2009 CATALOGUE

LONG DISTANCE CIRCUITS, A NEW BRAND OF CARS IN AN UNHEARD-OF SCALE, 1:28, AND PROFESSIONAL SPARE PARTS FOR COMPETITION PLACE THE FOCUS ON THE INITIATED USER

NINCO, the benchmark for slot car racers in the hobby sector, commit to reinforce this leadership with very special new products, according to what has been seen at the presentation of its 2009 catalogue at the International Toy Exhibition in Nuremberg (Germany), the most important event in the world for the sector.

Track

The favourite track in clubs and competitions incorporates two new sections to gain versatility both for speed circuits and rally sections: the 5 curve radii, the super-super exterior that will allow 10-lane circuits and the single-lane track.

The complete circuits for domestic use gain metres of track to make the gameplay at home really good fun, using as a reference either a standard or a ping pong table to place them permanently. One of the best new products is a large four-lane circuit.

American Speedway (5.80m) - Starter Pro V09 (7.89m) - Pro Am (9.25m)
Grand Am (9.90m) - Master Sport Lotus Edt (14.37m) - Master Track V09 (15.70m)
Four Lanes (13.46m)

OFFICIAL STATEMENT

Cars

The range of cars presents very noteworthy new products. If at the end of 2008 NINCO presented an introductory brand for slot racing, NINCO 1, to facilitate access to the hobby and so that novice users would enjoy their cars from the first moment, this time they opted to focus on the other extreme, the expert driver. NINCO launches a new brand in an unheard-of scale (1:28), born XLOT. Cars with 100% personalisable metal chassis, XL slot size.

The current NINCO cars, will now acquire the surname 'Sport'. Thus, the range of cars presented for the 3 NINCO brands has the following models for 2009:

NINCO 1 (1:32 Beginners)

Ford Mustang
Corvette GT3
Lamborghini Diablo

NINCO Sport (1:32)

Lotus Exige
Lamborghini Murcielago
Ford GT

XLOT (1:28)

Ferrari 430
Porsche 997

Spare Parts

NINCO, always close to the competition, in 2009 increased its range of spare and optional parts for 1:32 scale slot cars. 2 new engines NC-9 and NC-10, ultralow profile tyres, new 16" rims, transparent chassis, new white bodywork models with lexan interiors and a new range of professional tools for slot cars, stand out.

Accessories

The track accessories will see the arrival of the long-awaited N-Power adjustable transformer and, above all, 3 new controllers to complete a range thought up for every type of driver.

	55 Plus (55 Ohm)	35 Plus (35 Ohm)	Sport Electronic	XLOT Electronic
Ninco 1	X
Ninco Sport		X	X
XLOT				X

N-Digital

NINCO's digital slot car system opts for continuity after a year of consolidation in which the new double lane changer sections, straight and curved, improvements in the digitalisation of cars with the new chip and the 'N-Digital Ready' cars have popularised this new kind of game.

The 2009 range allows the user to get started with the Digital Kit, a circuit complete with two digitalised Lamborghini Gallardo and another in the format of a professional circuit of 14.28m in length. And, of course, always being able to easily digitalise any NINCO car.

NINCO
Crta. de L'Hospitalet 32, 08940 Cornellà (Barcelona) Spain.
www.ninco.com